The following piece was written in 1924
by the New Thought author and teacher, Ida Mingle.

“Love is the Divine essence that permeates all creation.
It is the silent force that binds the universe together,
the gentle whisper that calls us to our Higher selves.
When we choose Love, we align with the Infinite,
we become co-creators with the Divine.
Let Love be the lens through which we view the world, and in doing so, we shall see the face of God in every soul.”

And So It Is. (And So It Is.) Amen.
